We're a flower farm and florist specializing in weddings.

What makes us special?

The use of ecologically grown flowers, rare varieties picked at their peak. Looking for a wedding florist with a difference? You've come to the right place. Since trust is a key element in the preparation of such an event, our reliability will allow you to sleep soundly at night.

What's at stake with the flowers available from a traditional florist?

Behind the glamour of imported bouquets lies an often overlooked reality: the environmental and social impact of their production. Grown abroad, often in developing countries, flowers are generally exposed to alarming quantities of pesticides, endangering the health of workers and the ecological balance. Yet there is an alternative: choosing locally grown flowers! Our dedicated team, both in the field and in the floral design studio, is honored to help make your event a success. Let the magic begin!

The advantage of local versus imported flowers:

✧ Freshness and Durability: Locally produced cut flowers are fresher because they travel shorter distances to reach your wedding table.

✧ Direct control over the varieties on offer: Greater autonomy in the market, reducing dependence on external suppliers and enabling a quicker response to customer trends and demands.

✧ Supporting the Local Economy: By choosing locally produced flowers, you support Quebec farmers and communities. This promotes the local economy and strengthens the link between growers and consumers, creating a virtuous circle of sustainable development. We produce the majority of the flowers we use, but we also buy from local growers. These are flowers grown with joy!

✧ Reducing your carbon footprint: Opting for local flowers helps reduce your footprint by limiting the distances traveled to transport them.

✧ Uniqueness: exclusive flowers that can't be found on the traditional market because they wouldn't stand air transport. Like cherry blossoms, for example! So enchanting and delicate.
